

Awards Assembly

We did year group assemblies today; look at our awesome award winners. This means we can still celebrate, but being far more distanced than we would usually be.

Ofsted

Thank you so much to everyone for your messages of support regarding the Ofsted inspection, I have been overwhelmed by your sentiments. I am thrilled that you are on board with our ethos about Ofsted...I genuinely believe that your children will be better off for it.

Guidance for parents and carers on online sexual harassment and keeping children safe online

The Children's Commissioner has launched a guide for parents and carers on online sexual harassment and how they can support children to stay safe online.

"The things I wish my parents had known" draws together advice from 16 to 21 year olds on how parents should manage tricky conversations around sexual harassment and access to inappropriate content, including pornography.

The Commissioner's office began a programme of work focussing on peer-on-peer abuse following the avalanche of testimonies on the Everyone's Invited website, which laid bare an epidemic of sexual violence among teens. This was picked up in Ofsted's June 2021 review of sexual harassment in schools and colleges.

A surprising but overriding message from young people is that parents should start these challenging conversations early. They suggest broaching topics before a child is given a phone or a social media account, which is often around the age of 9 or 10.

Support for Others

I had a morning Teams meeting on Thursday this week on the literature that will be used to support other schools on a school improvement journey. I am really excited to be able to share our staff's expertise with other schools.

Monitoring

All teachers will be speaking to senior leaders this week and next week about every single child in their class. Discussions about progress, attainment, barriers to learning, behaviour and all manner of other things will really inform us of what we need to do for every child.

We will also be observing Reading Skills lessons next week. We love going into classes to see the fabulous quality of teaching and learning that takes place in every single one.

Smart Watches

There have been a number of issues with Smart watches this week (Christmas presents I'm sure). There have been incidents of pictures being taken, voice recordings being made and even linking messages between watches in the class. While we are more than happy for children to wear the watches for step counting etc, if they are used for anything else, or if they are used to distract learning, we will ask the children not to wear them in future. Thanks for your support in this.

Gas Works

There are major grounds works going on on the main drive over the next 2 to 3 weeks to rectify some gas works, therefore care is required when entering the site and there will be contractors and vehicle movement at various times of the day. Children who walk should be informed by parents to ensure that they are also extra vigilant on site especially when arriving and leaving.

Raffles

I am pleased to report that you all managed to raise £862.30 for the main raffle, and £129.60 for the children's raffle. Nearly £1000 raised for the children's experiences. Thank you so much for supporting these.

Learning Power of the Week

Perseverance

At this time of year we all have to dig deep! January always seems a little longer and harder than the other months. This is a little bit like the children's learning. We always teach them to keep trying – that being challenged and stuck is interesting, not embarrassing place to be.

We need to help the children question, what would happen if they gave up? What could happen if they persevere and continue? What are the possibilities?

Let's help children understand that easy tasks won't help us learn.
